MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL & C.E.O

I confirm that the class of 2023 which has been fully equipped with the skills, knowledge and competencies to make a positive impact in our society.

We have enriched most of our curricular to realign with job market and industry requirements and continue to recruit competent staff to manage our programs.

In addition to offering ongoing training and professional development, our programs also offer pathways to further education. This can include opportunities to earn additional certifications or degrees, or to transfer credits to a college or university program. This can be a great way for graduates to build on their initial education and training and to continue to grow and develop their skills over time.

Over the last few years, our college has contended with challenging moments. Thankfully, for all the hardships, challenges, the college has prevailed. We continue to be an example of the enduring spirit of perseverance and commitment. We continue to adopt innovative ways of attaining our vision of a world class college for the advancement of skills and competency for young people.

To the graduands,

As you graduate today I challenge you not to rest on your laurels but to continue striving towards even greater goals. Excelling in all facets of life requires discipline, leadership and character. These qualities undeniably form the core of a fulfilled and rewarding life. Discipline consists not in succumbing to external pressure but in cultivating mental habits which leads to desirable actions. If there is anyone thing that is evidenced by your daily choices, it is your character. Character is a collective term for the qualities that you have that sets you apart from other people. When we talk about someone having character, he or she has traits such as courage, honesty, loyalty and integrity. To develop character, start by highlighting your most important values, then uphold those values even in situations that seem unimportant. Also, surround yourself with people you admire to inspire further and strengthen your character. This is what our college has taught over time.

You must have the confidence and courage to be leaders in whatever field you choose to pursue. It may seem easier to stay where you are than to follow a new path, but this is fear talking to you. Have the courage to remain firm on your journey. It will be worth it in the end. Leadership is not about being appointed or elected to an office. Leadership is an attitude cultivated over time. It is about having aspirations beyond your wellbeing, working with others to advance the common good. We have molded you into wholesome men and women rich in character, bravery and emotional intelligence to withstand whatever comes your way.

Finally, I thank the parents and guardians for supporting the young men and women graduating today; your work has not been in vain.

I take this opportunity, to thank each one of you for coming to join us in making this graduation ceremony a successful and memorable occasion.

May God bless and keep you safe. I wish you well in all your endeavors.

Lizzie Wanyaike

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF STUDIES

It is with Gratitude and divine providence by our Lord and creator that we have been able to successfully congregate today for the NIBS 14th graduation ceremony. We are determined to remain focused on our goal of offering you the best education and academic support as our students – as is present in our motto, “Developing Skills, Character and Competency”

OUR NATIONAL & GLOBAL OUTLOOK

Our current job markets, both local and international continue to demand more ‘Technically’ skilled people as is evidenced by the constant and ever-changing information and technology developments all around the world. NIBS is committed and intentional to continually establish a culture of seeking and implementing the latest and most up-to-date training facilities in Kenya, to equip all our students with the necessary tools to outperform anywhere and everywhere they go.

OUR CHALLENGES AND SUCCESSES:

In our current economic climate, it is important for us to address many of the financial challenges faced by us as Kenyans, and indeed most of the developing world.

We are very much aware of the rising cost of living, the difficulties many of us are facing, we understand the sacrifices that have been made by the Parents, guardians and sponsors and we thank you sincerely for supporting our students even through this difficult times.

In this regard the NIBS college leadership have taken it upon ourselves to make sure we use these resources in equipping our campuses with the best possible facilities and improving all round learning environments for the students.

As such, the biggest success by far of this improvement is the expansion and furnishing of our NIBS Rongai Campus complex, sitting on 1 acre of prime land within the heart of Ongata Rongai, it stands out as a landmark and testament of our shared vision – to continually set the standard of Education.

The NIBS community continues to grow and we are proud of the tireless dedication of our fraternity to achieve the highest standards of learning for our students.

OUR SOCIAL OBLIGATION:

We are very much aware in our day and age, of the widespread and pervasive influence of our current electronic and digital social media environment.

While some media has been used for good – such as the advancement of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, access to useful learning tools and informative content; we also acknowledge that a lot of the influences are very negative and destructive to our young and impressionable minds.

To this end, we have fully committed ourselves to encourage the practice and pursue good moral behaviour, which is our cherished Christian ethic, and encourage strong moral character through the values we teach.

FINAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT:

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the NIBS fraternity, the Academic staff, the administrative staff, the leadership and whole NIBS community who have come together today to make this ceremony a success and through who today have made it possible for us to yet another graduation. We thank you for all your hard work and dedication.

Most importantly we wholeheartedly thank all the Parents, Guardians and sponsors for making the enormous sacrifices to support your children, our students – in making this day possible. We hope and pray that they in turn will imitate this same diligence in the next stage of their journey

Congratulations to the 14th graduating class of 2023 I pray all your dreams and hopes come true.

Rachel Kariithi
